

the biomimetic office building pdf

The Biomimetic Office Building The Biomimetic Office represents a new paradigm as the first office building that has ever been comprehensively designed with biomimicry. A concept study was carried out first with a minimum of constraints: there was no specific site, a very open brief and an enlightened approach to cost management that recognised not just capital cost but also long-term value.

The Biomimetic Office Building - Exploration Architecture

The Biomimetic Office Building is considered to be the first office building that has ever been thoughtfully designed using biomimicry. Designing a building that goes beyond conventional approaches requires new ways of working.
